GLEN TAYLOR
owner

On March 23, 1995, Glen Taylor closed the deal that made him majority owner of the Minnesota Timberwolves. He added the title of NBA owner to a list that already included international businessman, state senator, entrepreneur, philanthropist and executive of the year. In October 2002, Taylor became the majority owner of the WNBA's Minnesota Lynx after a change in the league's ownership structure. Taylor had served as the operating owner of the Lynx for the previous four seasons of the team's exsistence, beginning with the 1999 inagural campaign.

Before he even completed his first full season as Timberwolves owner, Taylor set in motion his plan for making a mark on the Minnesota sports scene. Prior to the completion of the sale of the team from Marv Wolfenson and Harvey Ratner, Taylor installed RobMoor, Roger Griffith and Chris Wright to run the business functions of the franchise. In 1999, Taylor brought women's professional basketball back to the Twin Cities by operating the Lynx and added the duties of Lynx Chief Operating Officer to Griffith's responsibilities. In the winter of 2008, Taylor shifted the balance of power within the Lynx by naming Griffith the company's Executive Vice President and appointing longtime Timberwolves and Lynx Vice President of New Business Development Conrad Smith as the new Chief Operating Officer of the Lynx. During the 2009 off-season, Taylor appointed longtime successful WNBA assistant coach Cheryl Reeve as the franchise's seventh head coach.

Glen Taylor is chairman of the multinational Taylor Corporation, based in Mankato, MN. He earned a Bachelor of Science degree from Minnesota State University, Mankato. During this period, he worked part time at Carlson Wedding Service, a print shop specializing in formal invitations. After graduation he continued to work at the company, developing strategies to cut delivery time, improve service and expand offerings. Taylor purchased the company in 1975, assembled a passionate leadership team and dramatically expanded the firmís capabilities, growing it into one of the largest privately held companies in the United States. Today Taylor Corporation, based in North Mankato, includes more than 80 subsidiaries providing business and personal communications products, technologies and marketing services. Other enterprises owned by Glen are in securities, agricultural, and medical fields.
He continued his education at the Harvard Graduate School of Business. In 1997, Mankato State University awarded Taylor their first honorary doctorate. Taylor received the degree of Honorary Doctor of Laws for his distinguished professional career and volunteer service. In October 2001, Taylor was inducted into the Minnesota State University, Mankato Hall of Distinction.

Taylor's business savvy has been recognized by Corporate Report magazine, which honored him as its Executive of the Year (1987), and the Sales and Marketing Executives of Minneapolis/St. Paul, who awarded him with their Sales Executive of the Year Award (1999). He was also inducted into the Minnesota Hall of Fame (2002) by Twin Cities Monthly Magazine.

Taylor was elected to the Minnesota Senate in 1980, where he served until 1990. He became assistant Senate minority leader in 1982. From 1984 to 1986, he served as Senate minority leader. While in the Senate, Taylor was instrumental in providing leadership in the areas of higher education, child care and economic development policies.

He has served on the NBA Planning Committee and has been Chairman of the Audit Committee. In October of 2008, Taylor was named chairman of the NBA's Board of Governors.
Through personal involvement, Taylor has remained active in many community, civic and charitable causes. He has also has served on his church's board of deacons and board of trustees and on the Mankato State University Foundation board of directors.

Taylor and his family have provided financial assistance and participated in missions to Africa, Turkey, Egypt and Central America to support the Starkey Hearing Foundation and Common Hope.
Nationally, Taylor has provided expert testimony on business and child care issues to the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives and served as a committee chair on the 1991 Commission on Reform and Efficiency (CORE).

ROB MOOR
chief executive officer

Rob Moor became chief executive officer of the Minnesota Timberwolves in 2004 following 10 years as the Team's President. After assisting Glen Taylor in the purchase and reorganization of the Team, Moor was involved in securing a WNBA Franchise in 1998 with the goal of providing year-round men's and women's professional basketball in Minnesota. From 2004 to 2007 Moor managed Target Center building operations as well as both the Timberwolves and Lynx franchises, and is currently working closely with the city of Minneapolis to remodel the arena to be a modern state-of-the-art NBA and WNBA arena.

Under Moor's guidance the Franchise operates with organizational guiding principles which focus on six values: "To Play Hard, Play Together, Play with Passion, Think Innovatively, Have Fun and Be a Pro."

In a career that began in the film industry at MGM Studios in Culver City, Calif., Moor was involved in the merger with United Artists and the subsequent sale of the studio to Ted Turner. Following MGM, Moor worked for Turner Entertainment several years before moving to 20th Century Fox. While at Fox, Moor had the opportunity to join the National Hockey League's Los Angeles Kings, where he transitioned his entertainment career to sports. Moor worked with the Kings for seven years before moving to Minnesota to lead the Timberwolves.

In addition to being the chair of Meet Minneapolis Convention and Visitors Association, Moor enjoys volunteering and working with community organizations. Born in Geneva, Switzerland, Moor lived in Europe until he moved to the United States in 1966. Moor currently resides in Plymouth, Minn.

CHRIS WRIGHT

This season will be Chris Wright's 25th year with the Timberwolves organization and 12th as the team's president. Wright is responsible for the day-to-day business operations of the team.

He leads a senior management group that is responsible for setting the strategic direction of the business operations of the franchise. By developing a culture driven by the values of thinking innovatively, playing hard, playing together, playing with passion and having fun, Wright and his senior management team are integrating the business and basketball operations to meet the strategic and financial goals of the team.

As president, Wright also articulates the purpose for the organization, the teams "why", which is to Be A Pack and to Believe, Inspire and Unite our fans. He believes this can be achieved with unparalleled customer service and by connecting with and engaging in our community in hundreds of different ways; whether coming to the arena, watching a game on television, purchasing a ticket online, or meeting players and staff in the community, Timberwolves fans know that they are the sole focus of the organization's efforts.

Wright believes that by developing experiences that emphasize being entertaining, captivating, thrilling, inclusive and tribal in all we do, that the Timberwolves will have the ability to achieve great things. Cheryl Reeve completed her sixth season as Lynx head coach in 2015, leading the Lynx to a 22-12 record and their fifth consecutive postseason appearance. Since taking over as Lynx head coach, Reeve owns a career 141-64 record, the most coaching wins in franchise history. She was initially named head coach on Dec. 8, 2009, taking over for former head coach Jennifer Gillom.-

Under Reeve's tutelage, Minnesota became the first team in league history to string together four consecutive 25+ win seasons. Reeve has led the Lynx to WNBA championships in 2011, 2013 and 2015 and trips to the WNBA Finals in three consecutive seasons (2011-13). Minnesota's 127 regular season wins over the last five seasons presents the second-most-prolific five-year haul in WNBA history (Los Angeles won 130 games from 2000-04). Since taking over in 2010, Reeve's .688 winning percentage ranks first in league history, one of just four coaches to win at least 60% of their games (Van Chancellor, .655; Michael Cooper, .628; Sandy Brondello, .618).

Reeve guided the Lynx to the first championship in franchise history in 2011, being named the WNBA Coach of the Year after leading Minnesota to a league-best 27-7 regular season record. The Lynx made a 14-game improvement from 2010, marking the second-largest single-season win increase in WNBA history.

In addition to her duties as Lynx head coach, Reeve assisted USA head coach Geno Auriemma to the gold medal and a 6-0 record at the 2014 FIBA World Championship, which also earned the U.S. a berth to the 2016 Olympic Games. She will return as an assistant for the USA National Team through the 2016 Olympic Games.

Reeve's coaching resume includes 27 years as both an assistant and a head coach at the collegiate and WNBA levels. In 2009, Reeve served as an assistant coach with the WNBA's Detroit Shock, and was promoted to the team's general manager position just three games into the season. Hired by three-time WNBA champion head coach Bill Laimbeer, Reeve joined the Shock coaching staff in 2006 and helped the franchise reach the WNBA Finals in each of her first three years, winning WNBA titles in 2006 and 2008. During her four years with Detroit, the team held an 87-49 win/loss record and won at least 18 games each season, including 24 in 2007. Reeve also served as the Shock's director of player personnel in 2008.

Reeve got her start in the WNBA with the Charlotte Sting in 2001 when she joined Anne Donovan's staff as an assistant coach. After posting an 8-24 record in 2000, Charlotte turned things around in Reeve's first year, going 18-14 en route to advancing to the WNBA Finals. Reeve spent the 2002 season again in Charlotte before joining Dan Hughes' coaching staff in Cleveland for the 2003 season. Reeve returned to the Sting in 2004 and 2005 before joining Detroit in 2006. In Reeve's nine years as an assistant in the WNBA, she compiled a .543 winning percentage (163-137 W/L), including seven postseason appearances and advancing to the WNBA Finals four times.

Before joining the WNBA coaching ranks, Reeve spent 12 years coaching collegiately, including a five-year stint as head coach at Indiana State from 1995-2000. Reeve guided the Sycamores to the program's first postseason berth in 20 years following the 1998-99 campaign.

Reeve also spent five years as an assistant coach at George Washington. During that time, the Colonials posted five 20-win seasons, captured three Atlantic 10 Conference Championships and appeared in four NCAA Tournaments. Reeve got her start in coaching at her alma matter, La Salle, as an assistant coach for two seasons.

As a player at La Salle, Reeve led the nationally-ranked Explorers to a 25-5 record in 1987-1988. She was named All-Metro Atlantic Conference and was an All-Big 5 selection as a senior. Reeve holds the school record for most games started (110) and ranks fourth on La Salle's career assist leader board (420).

Reeve excelled athletically and academically at La Salle, graduating with a degree in computer science/management information systems. A Rhodes Scholar nominee, Reeve received both a MAAC Scholar-Athlete Post Graduate Award and a NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship in 1988. She went on to earn her master's degree in business administration from her alma mater while also serving two years as an assistant coach for the Explorers.

2014 SEASON SUMMARY

MAY (6-0)

The defending champion Lynx began their 2014 campaign on the road in Washington, taking down the Mystics, 89-77. Maya Moore notched her first of 12 30+ point games on the season with a game-high 34 points. Rookie Damiris Dantas became just the second player in league history with 10+ rebounds and 5+ assists in a WNBA debut as she had a game-high 12 rebounds to go along with six dimes. Minnesota unveiled their 2013 championship banner at the Target Center on May 18 and gave the sellout crowd a show, defeating Connecticut in overtime, 90-77. Seimone Augustus hit the game-tying shot with 2.7 seconds left in regulation and Lindsay Whalen scored 10 points in overtime to lead the Lynx. Maya Moore recorded her third consecutive 30+ point game in Tulsa on May 23 as the Lynx escaped with a 94-93 win. Moore scored 38 points and grabbed 13 rebounds and followed that up with a 30 point performance in a May 24 win over New York. Moore became the first player in league history to score 30+ points in three consecutive games. Minnesota extended its winning streak to five games with a Memorial Day victory over the Chicago Sky. Lindsay Whalen led all scorers with 22 points, a performance that would help her win her sixth career Western Conference Player of the Week Award for the final week of May. It was the second straight week a Lynx player won the honor, as Maya Moore was named Player of the Week the previous week. Moore was also named Western Conference Player of the Month for the month of May, averaging a league-best 29.2 points per game in the month.

JUNE (6-5)

The Lynx started off June with a four-game road trip that saw them visit San Antonio, Seattle, Los Angeles and Atlanta, their longest stretch of consecutive road games on the season. Minnesota started off their month by winning their seventh consecutive game, an 87-79 victory over the Stars. The Lynx had four players score in double-figures, led by Seimone Augustus' 25 points on 12-of-19 shooting. The first loss of the 2014 campaign came in Seattle on June 6 as the Storm emerged victorious, 65-62. Seattle held the Lynx to just 1-of-13 shooting from the three-point line. The Lynx bounced back the following game with an 85-72 victory at Los Angeles on June 8. All five starters scored in double-figures for the Lynx who won at Staples Center for the first time since August 7, 2011. Seimone Augustus' 26 point effort marked her franchise-leading 100th 20+ point game in a Lynx uniform. In their first meeting since the 2013 WNBA Finals, the Lynx fell to Atlanta, 85-82 at Philips Arena. The Dream held Maya Moore and Seimone Augustus to a combined 8-of-25 shooting from the field and Lindsay Whalen scored a team-high 22 points to go along with eight rebounds and five assists. June 15 marked the first home game of the month for the Lynx as they welcome Phoenix into Target Center for the first meeting of the season between the two favorites in the Western Conference. Phoenix used a 26-12 first quarter to take down Minnesota, 80-72. Tan White came off the bench for the Lynx and hit 3-of-4 three-pointers en route to a 13 point performance, leading all reserves in scoring. The loss snapped a 10-game win streak for Minnesota over Phoenix. The Lynx got back in the win column at Los Angeles on June 17, winning 94-77 behind a WNBA season-high 63.8% shooting performance. It also marked the second-best shooting output in franchise history. The win marked the first time ever that Minnesota has won in Los Angeles twice in the same year. Maya Moore tied Seimone Augustus' franchise-record for 30+ point games in a season with 36 points in a 92-79 loss to Phoenix on June 18. Moore and Lindsay Whalen combined to score 58 of Minnesota's points in defeat. After being winless against Washington in 2013, the Lynx swept the season series with the Mystics after a 75-65 victory on June 20. The Lynx finished up a 6-games-in-10-days stretch with an 83-77 home win over Indiana on June 22 behind 26 points from Maya Moore. Minnesota finished up the month with a back-to-back against Seattle, losing in Seattle on June 27 then taking down the Storm at home on June 29. The Lynx went 6-5 in June in 2014, compared to 7-2 in June of 2013.

JULY (9-1)

The Lynx had a phenomenal month of July, going 9-1 and scoring 70+ points 10 times, 80+ points seven times, 90+ points four times and a WNBA season-high 112 points in a double-overtime win over Atlanta on July 22. The month started with the Lynx defeating the San Antonio Stars for the ninth straight time at Target Center, 91-84. Lindsay Whalen led all players in scoring and assists, finishing with 22 points and seven assists in the victory. After an 87-80 loss to the New York Liberty at Madison Square Garden on July 6, Minnesota went on a tear, winning their next 11 games. The winning streak started with an 83-72 triumph over the Sparks, Minnesota's eighth consecutive home victory against the Sparks. During the game, Lynx forward Maya Moore was named a starter for the 2014 WNBA Boost Mobile All-Star Game. Moore was the league's leading vote-getter and it marked her third time being voted as a starter. The winning streak reached two when the Lynx took down Tulsa, 91-85. Maya Moore's 33 points marked her eighth 30+ point game and put her just two behind Diana Taurasi's record of 10 in one season. The Lynx beat Seattle for the first time on the year with a 77-60 win over the Storm in the first game of a four-game homestand. The Lynx defense held the Storm to a dismal 33.8% shooting performance in the win. On July 15, the starting backcourt of Lindsay Whalen and Seimone Augustus were selected as reserves for the 2014 Boost Mobile WNBA All-Star Game. It marked the third straight All-Star Game where Minnesota has sent at least three players. The Lynx won their eighth straight game at Target Center in front of a franchise-record 16,413 fans when they beat Tulsa, 93-82 on July 16. Maya Moore scored 30+ points against the Shock for the third straight game and the Lynx outscored the Shock in fast break points, 23-4. Rookie Damiris Dantas also had 11 rebounds in the victory. On July 21, Maya Moore was named Western Conference Player of the Week for the second consecutive week and third time this season. Moore showed why she won the award when she had a record-setting day for the Lynx in a 112-108 double-overtime win over the Atlanta Dream on July 22. Moore broke Katie Smith's franchise-record for points in a game when she scored 48 in the win. The 48 points was a WNBA season-high and second-highest single game total in WNBA history. The 112 points are the most scored by any team in the league this season. The win also marked the return of Rebekkah Brunson. After missing the first 23 games recovering from knee surgery, Brunson notched a double-double with 17 points and 12 rebounds. Minnesota officially clinched a berth in the 2014 Playoffs when Seattle lost to New York on July 24. It marks the fourth straight year that Minnesota will be postseason-bound. The Lynx won their sixth straight game on July 25 as they took down the San Antonio Stars and made it seven straight wins with a victory over the Connecticut Sun on July 27. Minnesota concluded the month of July with a thrilling 75-67 win over Phoenix, snapping the Mercury's 16-game winning streak. Maya Moore recorded her 18th 20+ point game of the season just days after winning her third straight Western Conference Player of the Week award. The 9-1 record for the month is the best-ever record the Lynx have had in July.

AUGUST (4-3)

Minnesota headed into the month with a 21-6 record, riding an eight-game winning streak and sitting just two games behind Phoenix for the WNBA's best record. The month of August started like July finished, with the Lynx winning. Minnesota improved to 4-0 against Tulsa in 2014 with an 84-75 road victory. Maya Moore scored 30+ points against the Shock for the fourth straight game, finishing with 40. The output made Moore the third player in WNBA history with multiple 40+ point games in a season, joining Diana Taurasi and Katie Smith. The Lynx hit 100% of their free throws (11-of-11), the first time they had done that all season. The win streak reached 10 with a thrilling, 66-64 victory at Indiana. After a Whalen miss, Seimone Augustus tipped in the offensive rebound at the buzzer to give Minnesota the win. It was the first buzzer-beater victory for the Lynx since 2012, also against Indiana. Minnesota won their 11th straight game, the second-longest winning streak in franchise history, with a 74-64 defeat of the Chicago Sky on August 7. The Lynx outscored the Sky in the paint in the win, 42-22. Phoenix snapped Minnesota's winning streak on August 9, beating the Lynx 82-80 courtesy of a last-second Diana Taurasi jumper. Maya Moore scored 30 points in the loss, her WNBA-record 12th 30+ point game of the season. With seven rebounds against the Mercury, Rebekkah Brunson moved into seventh on the WNBA's all-time rebounding list. After losses to Los Angeles and San Antonio gave the Lynx a three-game skid, they finished the season in the win column, taking down Tulsa 80-63. Maya Moore became the second player in franchise history to score 10+ points in 34 games, joining Seimone Augustus. With a 25-9 final regular season record, Minnesota became the first team in WNBA history to have four-consecutive 25+ win seasons.

Second round: Phoenix wins series, 2-1

GAME ONE at US Airways Center - Friday, Aug. 29

Minnesota 71, Phoenix 85

Brittney Griner tallied 23 points and 11 rebounds, Penny Taylor chipped in 16 points, 13 rebounds and seven assists and Phoenix never trailed in cruising to an 85-71 victory over the Lynx on Friday night at US Airways Center. The Mercury scored the game's first nine points before Seimone Augustus pulled Minnesota even at 12-12. Clinging to a four-point lead midway through the second period, DeWana Bonner's 3-pointer ignited an 11-2 burst that carried Phoenix to a 42-31 halftime advantage. The Mercury then broke the game open by reeling off 14 unanswered points (including eight by Taylor) midway through the third period and grabbed their largest lead of the night when DianaTaurasi made it 66-41 with 1:46 left in the quarter. Lindsay Whalen netted 13 points during a Minnesota rally -- capped by a steal and layup at the 5:15 mark of the final stanza -- that whittled the deficit to 75-64. However, the Lynx could get no closer than 10 down the stretch en route to their first-ever loss in a Western Conference Finals series. Whalen finished with 25 points while Augustus and Rebekkah Brunson added 12 apiece for Minnesota.

Maya Moore scored 13 of her 32 points in the fourth quarter and Seimone Augustus hit the go-ahead jumper with 23.3 seconds left as the Lynx rallied for an 82-77 victory over Phoenix on Sunday afte noon at Target Center. The Mercury led 22-9 after one quarter before Lindsay Whalen brought Minnesota to within four early in the second. However, Diana Taurasi sank a pair of 3-pointers during a 10-2 burst that helped Phoenix rebuilt the margin to 44-36 by halftime. Diana Taurasi keyed a Phoenix rally that knotted the score at 29-29, but the Lynx countered with the next nine points and took a 38-35 lead into halftime. After the Mercury again pulled even on a pair of DeWanna Bonner free throws early in the third, Moore's jumper topped off a 7-0 response and Minnesota entered the fourth quarter holding a 53-45 edge. Moore then scored eight of the Lynx' first 10 points in the final period and Rebekkah Brunson gave Minnesota its largest lead at 69-56 with 3:01 to play. Three straight baskets by Taurasi brought Phoenix to within six and Dupree cut it to 69-65 with 42.8 seconds left before the Lynx sealed it with free throws. Maya Moore scored 20 points and Rebekkah Brunson added 14 points and 10 rebounds as the Lynx began the Western Conference Finals with a 94-77 victory over Los Angeles on Thursday night at Target Center. Nine unanswered points put the Sparks on top 15-10 midway through the first quarter, but Minnesota outscored L.A. 36-11 over the next 12 minutes and took a 48-31 lead into halftime when Lindsay Whalen's putback beat the buzzer. First round: Minnesota wins series, 2-1

GAME ONE at Target Center - Friday, Sept. 28

Minnesota 78, Seattle 70

Lindsay Whalen totaled 20 points and six assists, and the Lynx fended off a late Seattle rally to notch a 78-70 series-opening win on Friday night at Target Center. Minnesota never trailed, jumping to a 9-1 lead as the Storm missed their first eight shots. After Seattle drew even late in the first quarter, Maya Moore's 3-pointer at the buzzer made it 18-15. Seimone Augustus hiked the lead to 10 in the second before last-minute baskets from Shekinna Stricklen and Lauren Jackson cut the Storm's halftime deficit to 33-27. Minnesota scored the first six after intermission, and its lead peaked at 57-40 following a Candice Wiggins trey with 2:38 left in the third period. However, Katie Smith and Tina Thompson countered with back-to-back 3-pointers to help narrow the margin to 60-51 entering the fourth. Tanisha Wright sparked Seattle's final comeback bid that saw the Lynx' cushion shrink to six on three occasions, but jumpers by Moore and Augustus in the final two minutes kept the Storm at bay. Augustus finished with 19 points for Minnesota while Moore added 16 and Rebekkah Brunson collected 12 points and 11 rebounds. Stricklen's 13 points and seven rebounds topped Seattle.

Sue Bird scored 22 points, including a pair of 3-pointers in the second overtime, as Seattle rallied for an 86-79 victory over the Lynx on Sunday night at KeyArena. Trailing 18-15 late in the first quarter, Minnesota reeled off 16 unanswered points and took its biggest lead of the contest when Seimone Augustus' jumper made it 31-18 with 7:09 left in the half. Bird and Tanisha Wright fueled a Seattle comeback that narrowed the gap to 37-36 by halftime, but the Lynx scored the first seven points of the third period to regain control. Trailing by six to begin the fourth, the Storm edged ahead briefly on Camille Little's basket at the 3:10 mark, then after six in a row by Minnesota, Lauren Jackson drilled a 3-pointer with 1.1 seconds left to force OT. Wright duplicated that effort with a late tying trey in the first extra session, and the Lynx misfired on their final possession to leave the score tied at 75-75. Thompson began the second extra session with a long-range strike and Seattle never trailed, sealing it on Bird's 3-pointer with 42.2 seconds left. Wright had 18 points and Jackson grabbed 14 rebounds for the Storm, while Rebekkah Brunson led Minnesota with 22 points and 15 boards.

GAME THREE at Target Center - Tuesday, Oct. 2

Minnesota 73, Seattle 72

Seimone Augustus scored 21 points and Rebekkah Brunson added 10 of her 16 points in the fourth quarter as the Lynx held on for a series-clinching 73-72 win over Seattle on Tuesday night at Target Center. After spotting the Storm an 8-2 lead, Minnesota erupted for a 20-4 burst fueled by 10 points from Maya Moore. Seattle held the Lynx to just two baskets during a second quarter that saw the lead change hands six times and ended with Minnesota clinging to a 36-35 halftime edge. The Lynx never trailed after intermission, riding a 12-point third quarter from Augustus to remain in front 56-52 entering the fourth. Katie Smith's 3-pointer brought Seattle to within one before Lauren Jackson tied it at 60-60 with her own long-range strike. A putback from Brunson at the 6:02 mark gave Minnesota the lead for good, but the margin never exceeded five points down the stretch and Sue Bird's trey pulled Seattle to within 73-72 with 35 seconds left. However, following a defensive stop, Jackson's game-winning attempt misfired at the buzzer. Moore finished with 20 points for Minnesota, while Bird paced the Storm with 19 points and 11 assists and Camille Little added 17 points.

Lauren Jackson scored 18 points and Seattle advanced to the Western Conference finals with a 64-54 victory over the Lynx on Sept. 27, sweeping the best-of-three series. Nicole Ohlde's three-point play triggered a 7-0 spurt that gave Minnesota a 13-10 lead midway through the first half. The Storm, having lost Sue Bird earlier in the contest due to a broken nose, battled back in front when Alicia Thompson converted a three-point play at the 10:16 mark. The Lynx then used a pair of Stacey Lovelace-Tolbert jumpers to reclaim a four-point margin, but after Vanessa Hayden's layup put Minnesota in front 22-19, Seattle held the Lynx without a basket for more than five minutes and Jackson's basket helped the Storm build a 28-27 halftime edge. Seattle rallied to tie before Amber Jacobs struck from 3-point distance for a 48-45 Lynx lead with 9:47 to play, but Minnesota endured a seven-minute drought without a field goal as the Storm took control with a 14-1 run. A Janell Burse layup capped the uprising, which left Seattle ahead 59-49 with 2:51 to play. Tamika Williams' steal and layup with 7.4 seconds remaining capped a monumental comeback as the Lynx handed Los Angeles a 74-72 setback in Game 1 of the best-of-three WNBA Playoff series on Aug. 28 at Target Center. The Sparks stormed out to a 17-6 lead less than five minutes into the contest, hitting eight of their first nine shots. Lisa Leslie poured in 17 points in the first half, which ended with Los Angeles on top 49-32 after Tamecka Dixon's three-pointer in the closing seconds. A jumper by Dixon gave the Sparks a 21-point advantage early in the second half, but Katie Smith ignited a 9-0 burst that sliced Minnesota's deficit to 53-41. Trailing by 10 with under nine minutes remaining, the Lynx outscored Los Angeles 13-2 to take their first lead of the night at 62-61 on a Williams layup. Leslie answered with a three-point play to reclaim the lead for L.A., but Teresa Edwards put Minnesota back in front 69-68 with a three-pointer at the 2:42 mark. Baskets by Mwadi Mabika and Leslie gave the Sparks a three-point edge in the final minute, setting the stage for a game-tying Smith trey that made it 72-72 with 24.4 seconds left. Williams then stole Mabika's inbound pass and drove for the go-ahead score. Edwards and Janell Burse combined to knock the ball loose from Mabika as time expired. Leslie finished with 24 points and Dixon added 18 for Los Angeles, which lost Nikki Teasley to injury midway through the first half. Smith's 23 points topped the Lynx in their first-ever playoff game, while Williams chipped in 16 points and Edwards handed out nine assists. Minnesota set a WNBA playoff record for largest comeback after trailing by as many as 21 points.

The Lynx rallied to within eight on a three-point play by Smith with 8:01 remaining, and Kristi Harrower's trey with 6:10 to play narrowed the deficit to 62-55. However, Mwadi Mabika answered on the Sparks' next possession and Leslie followed with a layup to push the margin back to 11, spoiling the second-half effort of Minnesota's Tamika Williams, who scored all 17 of her team-high points after intermission. Smith chipped in 11 points for the Lynx, while Edwards netted eight points and eight assists. Sheri Sam had seven points, eight rebounds and five steals. Tamecka Dixon scored 14 points for Los Angeles, with Milton and Nikki Teasley adding 13 apiece. Teasley also registered eight assists.

LEAGUE HISTORY AND INFORMATION

HISTORY:

On April 24, 1996, women's basketball announced "We Got Next" as the NBA Board of Governors approved the concept of a Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA) to begin play in June 1997.

Since that day in 1996, there have been many firsts for the WNBA:
Val Ackerman -- the first president of the WNBA
Sheryl Swoopes -- the first player signed to the WNBA
Cynthia Cooper -- the league's first Most Valuable Player
Houston Comets -- the first WNBA champions
Lisa Leslie -- the first WNBA player to dunk (July 30 2002 vs. Miami)
Lauren Jackson -- the first international player to win MVP (2007)
Candace Parker -- the first rookie to earn the league's MVP honor (2008)
Sylvia Fowles -- the first goaltending call (June 3, 2008 vs. L.A.)

The inaugural WNBA season tipped off on June 21, 1997, with the New York Liberty taking on the Los Angeles Sparks at the Great Western Forum in Inglewood, Calif. A crowd of 14,284 watched as Sparks guard Penny Toler scored the first basket in WNBA history. The Liberty defeated the Sparks, 67-57.

Fifteen years later, in a rematch of those same two teams at Staples Center in Los Angeles, the increased skill, talent, and athleticism of WNBA players was evident as the Sparks, led by center/forward Candace Parker, defeated the Liberty 96-91. In 2011, the league also selected its "Top 15 Players of All Time." Voting was conducted among fans, media, and current players and coaches. Those named to the list were Sue Bird, Tamika Catchings, Cynthia Cooper, Yolanda Griffith, Becky Hammon, Lauren Jackson, Lisa Leslie, Ticha Penicheiro, Cappie Pondexter, Katie Smith, Dawn Staley, Sheryl Swoopes, Diana Taurasi, Tina Thompson, and Teresa Weatherspoon.

A GROWING GAME:

The influence of the WNBA can be seen in the explosive growth of organized women's basketball over the past 14 seasons. An estimated 100 million women play basketball worldwide, and the league reflects this trend, featuring 15 international players from six countries and territories at the start of the 2011 season. Female AAU youth basketball participation has increased 277 percent since 1991 (from 28,840 to 108,758 players). Female high school basketball participation has increased 17 percent since 1991 (from 387,802 to 456,967 players). And female NCAA basketball participation has increased 43 percent since 1991 (from 10,551 to 15,096 players).

In 2010, Tina Thompson of the Los Angeles Sparks became the all-time scoring leader with 6,413 points, surpassing her former teammate, Lisa Leslie (6,263) who retired following the 2009 season.

Tina Charles won the 2010 WNBA Rookie of the Year award after averaging 15.5 ppg, 11.7 rpg, and 1.7 bpg, while also setting league records for most rebounds (398) and doubles-doubles (22) in a season.

Lauren Jackson won the 2010 WNBA MVP presented by Kia Motors award and also took home 2010 WNBA Finals MVP honors.

Jackson also became the third player to earn WNBA MVP honors three times (2003, 2007, 2010), joining the Sparks' Lisa Leslie (2001, 2004, 2006) and the Houston Comets' Sheryl Swoopes (2000, 2002, 2005). Houston's Cynthia Cooper earned the award twice (1997, 1998). The others to capture MVP honors are the Sacramento Monarchs' Yolanda Griffith (1999), the Sparks' Candace Parker (2008, when she became the first rookie in league history to earn the award), and the Phoenix Mercury's Diana Taurasi (2009).

Lisa Leslie of the Los Angeles Sparks became the first – and only – WNBA player to capture the regular-season, All-Star, and Finals MVP awards in the same season (2001).

Candace Parker became the first WNBA player to win Rookie of the Year and Most Valuable Player in the same season (2008). Diana Taurasi subsequently surpassed Jackson as the fastest to 4,000 points in terms of fewest games played when she reached the milestone on July 27, 2009 in just 197 games.

Taurasi rewrote the WNBA scoring records in 2006 when she led the league with 25.3 points per contest, became the first WNBA player to top 800 points in a single season (860), and the single-season mark for three-point field-goals (121), and the single-game mark for points (47, a number later equaled by the Storm's Lauren Jackson in 2007).

Sheryl Swoopes, who earned MVP and Defensive Player of the Year honors in 2000 and 2002, recorded the league's first triple-double (14 points, 15 rebounds, 10 assists) vs. the Detroit Shock on July 27, 1999.

The cornerstone of the new WNBA visual identity is a more modern "Logowoman" -- the player silhouette within the logo -- that better embodies the athleticism and diversity of current WNBA players while leveraging the distinctive orange-and-oatmeal color scheme of the league's iconic game ball.

APR. 15 For the first time in the WNBA's 17 seasons, the league's Draft is televised live in primetime. JULY 27 The Los Angeles Sparks' Candace Parker was crowned MVP of the 2013 Boost Mobile WNBA All-Star Game after setting an All-Star Game record with 23 points, topping the mark of 22 set by Swin Cash in 2009. Parker shot 10-for-13 from the field and chipped in 11 rebounds. OCT 10 After advancing to the WNBA Finals for the third consecutive season, the Western Conference champion Minnesota Lynx toppled the Atlanta Dream 3-games-to-0, giving Minnesota its second WNBA title in franchise history and its second crown in a three-year span. Following an 86-77 Game 3 victory at Gwinnett Arena in suburban Atlanta, Lynx forward Maya Moore, the runner-up for the regular-season MVP award, was named the MVP of the Finals.
